Statistics

Report of the Conference Statistician

Ransom E. Casey-Rutland

For the year ending December 31, 2002

Many hands have had a part in making this report possible. Someone in every church and mission compiled this information and entered it into our on-line statistical collection program, someone in every district office carefully reviewed each church's information, and a variety of people at the conference level checked the information again and compiled these reports. I am very appreciative to all those who have made this possible.

At the end of 2002 the Florida Conference had 735 churches, new church starts, and missions reporting statistics.

Membership: Total membership declined from 334,053 at the end of 2001 to 331,806 at the end of 2002. This is a drop of 2,247 members or 0.67%. In the prior year, 2001, the decline was 1,185 members or 0.35%. Nonetheless, 5,637 people of all ages were baptized in Florida Conference churches in 2002 (compared with 5,964 in 2001) and 8,679 new members were received by profession of faith (compared to 9,512 in 2001). The majority of our members are female (59%) and white (91%). About 4% of our members are African-American, about 2% Hispanic, and about 3% Asian, Haitian, Caribbean, Pacific Islanders, or Native American. There were 185 churches with fewer than 100 members and 80 churches with under 50. 91 churches reported at least 1,000 members and 26 churches had at least 2,000. Altogether, 346 churches reported increases in membership and 312 reported declines. About half our churches had over 240 members; about half had fewer than 240.

Attendance: Average weekly worship attendance decreased from 166,817 in 2001 to 163,860 in 2002. This is a decline of 2,957 or 1.8% and reverses an 8-year trend of steady growth in worship attendance. 89 churches averaged more than 500 in worship, 22 churches averaged more than 1,000, and 4 churches averaged more than 1,500. Altogether, 285 churches reported increases in average worship attendance and 370 reported declines. About half our churches averaged over 120 people in worship; about half averaged under 120.

Other: Compared with 2001, 2002 showed a decrease in the number of people in confirmation classes (3,364 vs. 3,440). But we showed an increase in Sunday School membership (157,435 vs. 154,317) and an increase in average Sunday School attendance (56,775 vs. 56,079). Membership in United Methodist Men declined 5% (from 11,909 to 11,307) and membership in United Methodist Women declined 0.6% (from 31,215 to 31,043). However, membership in United Methodist Youth Fellowship increased by 7.4% to 23,416.

Why are statistics important? (Adapted from an article by Beth B. Borst, Director of Statistics for the General Council on Finance and Administration) Once all the statistics are compiled and checked, they are sent to the General Council on Finance and Administration and used for a variety of purposes.

- The General Board of Global Ministries uses them to help annual conferences, districts, and local churches plan how to more effectively minister within their own communities. Church statistics are combined with demographic data by the Office of Research to help local churches analyze where there are new opportunities for outreach. (For more information go to <http://research.gb-gm-umc.org>)
- The United Methodist Publishing House uses conference statistics in planning resources and marketing. The statistics help to determine where resources are already being used and where there may be opportunities to provide new resources to local churches. (For more information on the United Methodist Publishing House, go to <http://www.umph.com/resources/who/default.html>.)
- The General Commission on the Status and Role of Women and the General Commission on Religion and Race use the statistics in monitoring and raising consciousness of gender and racial/ethnic inclusiveness in The United Methodist Church. Gender and Racial/Ethnic membership information provides a measure of progress toward the United Methodist Church's commitment toward becoming a fully inclusive denomination.
(For more information go to <http://www.gcsrw.org/history/> or <http://www.gccr.org/Original%20Web/ministry.htm>.)
- The General Council on Ministries uses the statistics as baseline and supplemental information in surveys of local churches. One recent and interesting study is Faith Communities Today, an interdenominational study sponsored by the Lilly Endowment.
(For more information go to: <http://www.gcom-umc.org/research/research.shtml>)
- GCFA provides statistical information to annual conferences, other general agencies of The United Methodist Church, ecumenical organizations, and other interested persons and institutions. And, of course, the statistics from the Tables I & II are used in determining the apportionments to the annual conferences, enabling United Methodists to be in dynamic ministry together throughout the world.
(For more information go to, <http://www.gcfa.org/RecordsandStatisticsPage.htm>)

Churches are more than the number of persons attending worship or the number baptized in a year. Yet, those numbers can help bring attention to matters warranting concern or celebration. Sharing with each other the objective data that numbers provide helps keep our connection vital. The careful preparation and distribution of the local church statistics allow us as The United Methodist Church to monitor our membership and financial health and to have a measurable basis for future directions.
